

Company Profile

Who We Are

Black Mountain Technologies is an AI software company out of British Columbia, built by the team behind Black Mountain Dirt Works, a real owner-operated construction company on Vancouver Island (blackmountaindirtworks.net). We build for contractors as contractors, not as outsiders. Our AI wins back and reactivates your past clients and recovers the revenue lost to missed calls and quotes that never close. Everything is managed by us in-house, nothing is outsourced, and we keep none of your information.

What We Do

- Client Reactivation

We text your old quotes and past clients back into the pipeline, in your company's name. Booked straight onto your calendar, with almost nothing on your end.

- Missed-Call Text-Back

The moment a call is missed, the caller gets an instant text from you and books an estimate, instead of calling the next contractor. Runs 24/7.
